1.0 PURPOSE

Illinois Wesleyan University (IWU)'s technology infrastructure exists to support the institution and administrative activities needed to fulfill the institution's mission. Access to these resources is a privilege that should be exercised responsibly, ethically and lawfully.

The purpose of this Acceptable Use Policy is to clearly establish each member of the institution's role in protecting its information assets and communicate minimum expectations for meeting these requirements. Fulfilling these objectives will enable IWU to implement a comprehensive system-wide Information Security Program.

2.0 SCOPE

This policy applies to all users of computing resources owned, managed or otherwise provided by the institution. Individuals covered by this policy include, but are not limited to all faculty, staff, students, student workers, service providers, and guests with access to the institution's computing resources and/or facilities. Computing resources include all IWU owned, licensed or managed hardware and software, email domains and related services and any use of the institution's network via a physical or wireless connection, regardless of the ownership of the computer or device connected to the network.

3.0 PRIVACY

IWU will make every reasonable effort to respect a user's privacy. However, faculty, staff, students, student workers, service providers, and guests do not acquire a right of privacy for communications transmitted or stored on the institution's resources. Additionally, in response to a judicial order or any other action required by law or permitted by official IWU policy or as otherwise considered reasonably necessary to protect or promote the legitimate interests of the institution, the University President may authorize an IWU official or an authorized agent, to access, review, monitor and/or disclose computer files associated with an individual's account. Examples of situations where the exercise of this authority would be warranted include, but are not limited to, the investigation of violations of law or the institution's rules, regulations or policies, or when access is considered necessary to conduct IWU business due to the unexpected absence of faculty, staff or student workers or to respond to health or safety emergencies.

4.0 POLICY

Activities related to the IWU mission take precedence over computing pursuits of a more personal or recreational nature. Any use that disrupts the institution's mission is prohibited.

Following the same standards of common sense, courtesy and civility that govern the use of other shared facilities, acceptable use of information technology resources generally respects all individuals' privacy, while protecting the right of individuals to be free from intimidation and/or harassment. All users of IWU's computing resources must adhere to the requirements below.

4.1 FRAUDULENT AND ILLEGAL USE

IWU explicitly prohibits the use of any information system for fraudulent and/or illegal purposes. While using any of the institution's information systems, a user must not engage in any activity that is illegal under local, state, federal, and/or international law. As a part of this policy, users must not:

- Violate the rights of any individual, company, or the University involving information protected by copyright, trade secret, patent or other intellectual property, or similar laws or regulations, including, but not limited to, the installation or distribution of pirated or other software products that are not appropriately licensed for use by IWU.
- Use of copyrighted material including, but not limited to, photographs, books, or other copyrighted sources, copyrighted music, and any copyrighted software that is not consistent with the universities published policies and practices. Refer to IWU's published Copyright Policies and Practices here: <https://libguides.iwu.edu/copyright>
- Export software, technical information, encryption software, or technology in violation of international or regional export control laws.
- Issue statements about warranty, expressed or implied, unless it is a part of normal job duties, or make fraudulent offers of products, items, and/or services.

Any user that suspects or is aware of the occurrence of any activity described in this section, or any other activity they believe may be fraudulent or illegal, must notify his/her supervisor immediately.

If any user creates any liability on behalf of IWU due to inappropriate use of the institution's resources, the user agrees to indemnify and hold the institution harmless, should it be necessary for IWU to defend itself against the activities or actions of the user.

4.2 CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

IWU has both an ethical and legal responsibility for protecting confidential information in accordance with its Data Classification Policy. To that end, there are some general positions that the institution has taken:

- Transmission of confidential information by end-user messaging technologies (for example, e-mail, instant messaging, SMS, chat, etc.) is prohibited.
- The writing or storage of confidential information on mobile devices (phones, tablets, USB drives) and removable media is prohibited. Mobile devices that access confidential information will be physically secured when not in use and located to minimize the risk of unauthorized access.

- All faculty, staff, students, student workers, service providers, and guests will use approved workstations or devices to access the institution's data, systems, or networks. Non-institution owned workstations that store, process, transmit, or access confidential information are prohibited. Accessing, storage, or processing confidential information on home computers is prohibited.
- All institution portable workstations will be securely maintained by the user such workstations will be handled as carry-on (hand) baggage on public transport. They will be concealed and/or locked when in private transport (e.g., locked in the trunk of an automobile) when not in use.
- Photographic, video, audio, or other recording equipment will not be utilized in secure areas.
- All confidential information stored on workstations and mobile devices must be encrypted.
- All faculty, staff and student workers who use institution-owned workstations will take all reasonable precautions to protect the confidentiality, integrity and availability of information contained on the workstation.
- Institution faculty, staff, student workers, and vendors who move electronic media or information systems containing confidential information are responsible for the subsequent use of such items and will take all appropriate and reasonable actions to protect against damage, theft and unauthorized use.
- Institution employees will activate their workstation locking software whenever they leave their workstation unattended or will log off from or lock their workstation when their shift is complete.
- When using a public computer for a presentation, be sure to delete the presentation on the public computer.

4.3 HARASSMENT

IWU is committed to providing a safe and productive environment, free from harassment, for all faculty, staff, students, student workers, service providers, and guests. For this reason, users must not:

- Use institution information systems to harass any other person via email, telephone, or any other means, or
- Actively procure or transmit material that is in violation of sexual harassment or hostile workplace laws.

If a user feels he/she is being harassed through the use of the institution's information systems, the user must report it, in writing, to his/her supervisor or any department head, who in turn must report it to Human Resources within 2 business days.

4.4 INCIDENT REPORTING

IWU is committed to responding to security incidents involving personnel, institution-owned information or institution-owned information assets. As part of this policy:

- The loss, theft or inappropriate use of institution access credentials (e.g. passwords, key cards or security tokens), assets (e.g. laptop, cell phones), or other information will be reported to the IT Service Desk.
- No faculty, staff, student worker, or vendor will prevent another member from reporting a security incident.

4.5 MALICIOUS ACTIVITY

IWU strictly prohibits the use of information systems for malicious activity against other users, the institution's information systems themselves, or the information assets of other parties.

4.5.1 DENIAL OF SERVICE

Users must not:

- Perpetrate, cause, or in any way enable disruption of IWU's information systems or network communications by denial-of-service methods;
- Knowingly introduce malicious programs, such as viruses, worms, and Trojan horses, to any information system; or
- Intentionally develop or use programs to infiltrate a computer, computing system, or network and/or damage or alter the software components of a computer, computing system or network.

4.5.2 CONFIDENTIALITY

Users must not:

- Perpetrate, cause, or in any way enable security breaches, including, but not limited to, accessing data of which the user is not an intended recipient or logging into a server or account that the user is not expressly authorized to access;
- Facilitate use or access by non-authorized users, including sharing their password or other login credentials with anyone, including other users, family members, or friends;
- Use the same password for IWU accounts as for other non-IWU access (for example, personal ISP account, social media, benefits, email, etc.);
- Attempt to gain access to files and resources to which they have not been granted permission, whether or not such access is technically possible, including attempting to obtain, obtaining, and/or using another user's password; or
- Make copies of another user's files without that user's knowledge and consent.
- All encryption keys employed by users must be provided to Information Technology if requested, in order to perform functions required by this policy.
- Base passwords on something that can be easily guessed or obtained using personal information (e.g. names, favorite sports teams, etc.).

4.5.3 IMPERSONATION

Users must not:

- Circumvent the user authentication or security of any information system;
- Add, remove, or modify any identifying network header information (“spoofing”) or attempt to impersonate any person by using forged headers or other identifying information;
- Create and/or use a proxy server of any kind, other than those provided by IWU, or otherwise redirect network traffic outside of normal routing with authorization; or
- Use any type of technology designed to mask, hide, or modify their identity or activities electronically.

4.5.4 NETWORK DISCOVERY

Users must not:

- Use a port scanning tool targeting either IWU’s network or any other external network, unless this activity is a part of the user’s normal job functions, such as a member of the Office of Information Technology, conducting a vulnerability scan, and faculty utilizing tools in a controlled environment.
- Use a network-monitoring tool or perform any kind of network monitoring that will intercept data not intended for the user’s, unless this activity is a part of the user’s normal job functions.

4.6 PREVENTING DISCRIMINATION AND HARASSMENT

Users must not post, upload, download, or display messages, photos, images, sound files, text files, video files, newsletters, or related materials considered to be harassing or discriminating based on the following characteristics:

- actual or perceived race, color, creed, religion, national origin, ancestry, citizenship status, age, sex or gender (including pregnancy, childbirth, related medical conditions and lactation),
- gender identity or gender expression (including transgender status),
- sexual orientation,
- marital status,
- military service and veteran status,
- disability,
- protected medical condition as defined by applicable state or local law,
- genetic information,
- or any other characteristic protected by applicable federal, state, or local laws and ordinances.

Note that any academic content required for completion of course activities and/or academic research is exempt from this policy requirement.

4.7 HARDWARE AND SOFTWARE

IWU strictly prohibits the use of any hardware or software that is not purchased, installed, configured, tracked, and managed by the institution. Users must not:

- Install, attach, connect or remove or disconnect, hardware of any kind, including wireless access points, storage devices, and peripherals, to any institution information system without the knowledge and permission of Information Technology;
- Download, install, disable, remove or uninstall software of any kind, including patches of existing software, to any institution information system without the knowledge and permission of the institution;
- Use personal flash drives, or other USB based storage media, without prior approval from their supervisor; or
- Take IWU equipment off-site without prior authorization from the supervisor..

4.8 MESSAGING

The institution provides a robust communication platform for users to fulfill its mission. Users must not:

- Automatically forward electronic messages of any kind, by using client message handling rules or any other mechanism without prior approval from Information Technology;
- Send unsolicited electronic messages, including “junk mail” or other advertising material to individuals who did not specifically request such material (spam);
- Solicit electronic messages for any other digital identifier (e.g. e-mail address, social handle, etc.), other than that of the poster's account, with the intent to harass or to collect replies; or
- Create or forward chain letters or messages, including those that promote “pyramid” schemes of any type.

4.9 REMOTE WORKING

When working remotely, user must:

- Safeguard and protect any institution-owned or managed computing asset (e.g. laptops and cell phones) to prevent loss or theft.
- Not utilize personally-owned computing devices for IWU work, including transferring IWU information to personally-owned devices, unless approved by the Chief Information Officer.
- Take reasonable precautions to prevent unauthorized parties from utilizing computing assets or viewing IWU information processed, stored or transmitted on institution-owned assets.
- Not create or store confidential or private information on local machines unless a current backup copy is available elsewhere.
- Not access or process confidential information in public places or over public, insecure networks.

- Only use approved methods for connecting to the institution (e.g. VPN).

4.9 OTHER

In addition to the other parts of this policy, users must not:

- Stream video, music, or other multimedia content unless this content is required to perform the user's normal business functions;
- Use the institution's information systems for commercial use or personal gain; or
- Use the institution's information systems to play games or provide similar entertainment unless required to perform the user's normal business functions.

5.0 ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

IWU reserves the right to protect, repair, and maintain the institution's computing equipment and network integrity. In accomplishing this goal, IWU IT personnel or their agents must do their utmost to maintain user privacy, including the content of personal files and Internet activities. Any information obtained by IT personnel about a user through routine maintenance of the institution's computing equipment or network should remain confidential, unless the information pertains to activities that are not compliant with acceptable use of IWU's computing resources.

6.0 ENFORCEMENT

Enforcement is the responsibility of the University's President or designee. Users who violate this policy may be denied access to the institution resources and may be subject to penalties and disciplinary action both within and outside of IWU. The institution may temporarily suspend or block access to an account, prior to the initiation or completion of disciplinary procedures, when it reasonably appears necessary to do so in order to protect the integrity, security, or functionality of the institution or other computing resources or to protect IWU from liability.

Users are subject to disciplinary rules described in the applicable handbook(s), and other policies and procedures governing acceptable workplace behavior.

7.0 EXCEPTIONS

Exceptions to the policy may be granted by the Chief Information Officer, or by his or her designee. All exceptions must be reviewed annually. Any exception granted by the Chief Information Officer shall be communicated in writing to the President of the University and respective Vice President within one (1) business day of the exception being granted.
